

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said, 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work. In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Only the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 1st Infantry turned out yesterday, the 2nd battalion of the regiment being stationed on Maui and Hawaii. However, each of the local battalions had a strength of five companies, Company K being attached to the 2nd, while the 1st recruit company is attached to the 1st. This brought 10 companies into the review.

The regiment assembled by battalions in the capitol grounds, and then formed in line on King street facing north, the right of the line resting opposite the entrance to the palace grounds, the line extending down Merchant street. After receiving the present arms, Maj. Lenihan, accompanied by the president of the senate, the speaker of the house, and members of the military committee of both houses, walked around the line, returning to the reviewing point, just west of Richards street, on the mauka side of King. The regiment then made a loop through the grounds of the judiciary building, in order to pass the tail of the column, swinging into company or platoon front according to the sign of the organization, and passing in review, played past the point by the Hawaiian band. The regiment entered the executive grounds by the Richards street gate, and pitched shelter tent camp in columns of platoons facing Waikiki. Tentage and equipment was inspected, and returned to the armory, after which the companies were inspected in close order.

Returning to the armory arms were stacked and dinner served, several of the legislators being the guests of the officers' mess. In the afternoon the companies were put through 10 minutes drill each, in close and extended order. Property will be counted and inspected during the week, on the regular drill night of each outfit.

Lieut.-col. W. R. Riley commanded the regiment, and expressed himself as well pleased with both the turnout and the appearance and work of the troops. There were few absentees, and those mostly men absent from the city, or on sick report. The attendance was not only the largest in numbers in the history of the guard, but showed by far the greatest percentage.

Counting the three companies on the outside islands still to be inspected, and the hospital corps detachment, the guard will receive approximately $19,500 from federal funds for the year.

Members of the legislature were well pleased with the showing of the territorial forces, and after an inspection of the armory were agreed that the $40,000 necessary to finish the building was not only a justifiable, but a necessary expense.

Following is the report of attendance by companies at yesterday's inspection:

NATIONAL GUARD INSPECTION IS RECORD BREAKER

Review Complimentary to Legislature Shows Good Condition of Troops

MAJ. LENIHAN INSPECTS TEN COMPANIES FOR U. S.

Big Turn-out Yesterday Wins About $20,000 in Federal Funds

Five hundred and fifty-one enlisted men and 37 officers of the 1st Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, passed in review before the United States army inspector, Maj. M. J. Lenihan, and members of the territorial legislature yesterday morning. The review was complimentary to the legislators, while the inspection of personnel and equipment which followed was part of the regular annual inspection of the organized militia, made for the war department. Numerically the guard made a splendid showing, and as every man present at inspection represented approximately $28 in federal funds for the fiscal year, the turnout was very satisfactory. In drill the citizen soldiers came up to standard, while the arms and equipment appeared to be in excellent condition.

Maj. Lenihan made no comments, except those of an official nature to guard officers and his general size-up of the territorial troops will be made in his report to the department commander, and will filter back through official channels some months from now. Regular army and militia officers who observed the review and inspection as spectators were unanimous in their commendation of the general showing.

"The companies were noticeably steady in ranks passing in review," said Col. J. W. Jones, the adjutant general. "The alignment was excellent, and the men made a good appearance. Uniforms were really uniform, and the equipment was in excellent condition."

Only the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 1st Infantry turned out yesterday, the 2nd battalion of the regiment being stationed on Maui and Hawaii. AUSTRALIA NOT TO STOP SENDING MEAT TO HAWAII

If Australia has any intention of extending its embargo on meat exportation to cover Hawaii, that intention has not yet been communicated to anybody here. Rumors that no more meat would be sent here from the Colonies have been current for some time but they were found today to be unfounded, as far as information has been received in this city.

At the Hawaii Meat Company it was said that no announcement of the cessation of shipments had been received and that a cargo was expected on the Sonoma, which arrives here March 25. The army contracts are all handled through the Hawaii Meat Company.

Maj. David E. Case of the quarter-master corps said the army also had received no official word of the rumored action, and that it was depending on its regular shipment next week. At the beginning of the war Australia placed an embargo on the exportation of meat but made an exception in favor of Hawaii.

PARTY PLATFORM MAY KILL BILLS AGAINST LIQUOR

Representative Lota's two anti-liquor bills and Representative Vieira's bill to curb the activities of wholesale liquor dealers are doomed to consignment to the house "graveyard," according to the opinion of several legislative leaders today.

"It is to be regretted that these bills are slated for this dumping ground," said one of the lawmakers today, "because they have merit, but the Republican platform enjoin the members—those of its party—from changing the liquor law except in certain specified particulars, and I think that the representatives will not attempt to find flaws in the platform, but will follow its meaning and reject the bills."

JURY ADVISES LENIENCY FOR CONVICTED MEN

After deliberating four hours the jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court returned a verdict of guilty of second degree robbery against John T. Scully and Henry T. Lewis late Saturday afternoon. At the same time the jury recommended that the court be lenient in fixing the penalties. The two will receive sentence Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Counsel for the defendants have given notice they will file exceptions to the verdict and ask an appeal to the supreme court. The trial was in progress all last week. The defendants were accused of robbing Chan Chun, a Chinese, of $700 on the night of February 3 at the home of Jack McGrath at Kalihi, enticing the Chinaman and two companions to the house by a promise to sell opium to him. Two other men whose identity has not been disclosed are said to have assisted in the hold-up, appearing suddenly on the scene and flourishing guns, compelling the three Orientals to throw up their hands while Scully searched their pockets.

The jury, it is said, felt some doubt over this latter part of the Chinese's story, questioning whether guns were actually used and for that reason finally deciding on a verdict of second degree robbery instead of first degree. It is said the jurors were unanimous for conviction on their first ballot, the balance of their time being spent in ascertaining whether it should be, as charged, of first degree.

The statute fixes an indeterminate sentence for the crime, imprisonment for any term of years up to life for robbery in the first degree, and similar punishment for a period of years up to twenty for robbery in the second degree.

Scully must face trial again on another similar charge, on which he has been indicted with John McGrath. That hearing is set for next Monday morning.
